Due diligence processes for slavery and human trafficking

External

We have zero tolerance to slavery and human trafficking. We have assessed our key supplier relationships and many of those businesses appear to have robust policies and processes to combat modern slavery. We undertake strict due diligence processes when appointing new suppliers. To ensure all those in our supply chain and contractors comply with our values, we have in place a supply chain compliance program with professionals across Legal, Human Resources and Sales contributing.

We have assessed the territories from which we operate by reference to the Walk Free Global Slavery Index 2023 and have identified that we generally do not conduct business in countries which are considered to have a high risk of forced labor.

Internal

To ensure a high level of understanding of the risks of modern slavery and human trafficking in our supply chains and our business, we provide regular training to our staff.

Within our own workforce, we have a robust system to combat slavery and human trafficking:

- We have in place recruitment policies which include right to work checks and adhere to minimum wage obligations in each territory in which we have a presence.
- We recruit new employees and contractors through reputable recruitment agencies.
- We hire any apprentices through reputable training providers and ensure all employees (including apprentices and interns) are paid at least minimum wage.
- We train and brief our applicable Human Resources personnel on the applicable policies and procedures relating to recruitment and right to work checks.
- We also have in place a formal written whistleblowing policy, applicable to all employees and workers in the Group, which facilitates the transparent reporting of non-compliance including with modern slavery legislation.

In relation to the effectiveness of these processes and policies, no issues of non-compliance have arisen during 2024, whether reported under whistleblowing policies or otherwise.

Steps taken in 2024

We have implemented a global HR Information System which provides transparency across the Revalize Group and enables us to achieve a coordinated approach to policies and procedures more effectively.

We utilize a single provider of visa and immigration checks as part of our recruitment process, providing further assurance on our compliance with modern slavery legislation.

Further steps

In 2025, we intend to conduct a review of the effectiveness of the steps we have taken this year to ensure that there is no slavery or human trafficking in our supply chains.

This statement is made pursuant to section 54(1) of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and constitutes our slavery and human trafficking statement for the financial year ending 31 December 2024. It was approved by the board on 9 April 2025.
